

WAUKEGAN PARK DISTRICT

Dandelion Wine Fine Arts Festival

Date: June 7, 2008

Hours of Event: 10 am – 4 pm

Location: Bowen Park

Estimated Attendance: 500-1000

The book Dandelion Wine was written by one of Waukegan's favorite sons, Ray Bradbury. This story takes the reader through the ravines and up and down the streets of Green Town (Waukegan) as seen by a young Douglas Spaulding. The City of Waukegan, Art, Etc., and the Cultural Arts Division of the Waukegan Park District honors Mr. Bradbury and Green Town with the Dandelion Wine Fine Arts Festival each year. The festival celebrates art, music, drama, and dance through art demonstrations, an open microphone program, musicians, dance demonstrations, theatre workshops, and storytellers. Artists of all mediums and artists from the Lake County Art League display and sell art work at this event. Infants through seniors are encouraged to attend this event.

Yes! My organization is interested in supporting Dandelion Wine Fine Arts Festival

Sponsorship levels range from $100 to $1000. Please call Claudia Freeman at (847) 360-4744 or return this interest form for more information. We would be happy to set up a meeting to discuss sponsorship opportunities in more detail.

Organization
Address	City, State, Zip
Phone	Fax
Email	Website

Please mail or fax interest form to:

Waukegan Park District
Claudia Freeman
39 Jack Benny Dr.
Waukegan, IL 60087
Fax: 847-662-0592

_____ Please check here if your organization is interested in Expo Booth space.